

ROSAN BOSCH STUDIO IS LOOKING TO HIRE A COMMUNICATION PROFESSIONAL

Are you passionate about Strategic Communication and Creative Writing? Are you interested in Architecture and Design and do you believe that design as a tool can make a difference? Are you a skilled strategist and experienced project manager?

Rosan Bosch Studio is looking to hire a communication professional that is passionate about building future schools and work environments to manage the studio's communication department from April 1st 2017.

At Rosan Bosch Studio, we work with design, art and architecture on cross-disciplinary projects with public and private institutions as well as corporate companies. Rosan Bosch Studio's projects stimulate innovation, change cultures and strengthen visual identities. Rosan Bosch Studio uses the influence of space and interior design as an active tool to create spatial solutions that intuitively support, inspire and facilitate institutions and organizations. To us design is a tool for development and improvement in society. The studio has specialized in developing spatial frameworks that communicate an institutions corporate values, as well as inviting the end-user to take on new behavioural patterns.

The successful candidate will work with, and be responsible for ensuring the smooth operation of the department in the planning, development and implementation of communications and PR strategies, as well as day-to-day management.

The candidate must have previous experience in a similar role with sound knowledge and skills in marketing and PR. They must have effective skills in writing and publishing with knowledge of traditional, digital and social media channels. They must be a good communicator, take responsibility for their own work and deliver internal and external communications in an integrated way.

They will be required to represent the studio at external meetings and events. They must also have experience using InDesign, Photoshop, Word/Microsoft packages and Photoshop. There will be an induction period for the role.

The Communication Professional will carry out the following tasks:

- Oversee all forms of communication and PR
- Oversee the production of all print and electronic literature and communications including books and press releases
- Update, maintain and develop the website
- Update, maintain and develop social media channels
- Organise and arrange agreements with exhibitions, conferences and other events
- Arrange exhibitions and secure funding
- Manage design awards
- Write and facilitate a communication strategy
- Creative writing and project development
- Coordinate press releases and secure press coverage in relevant national and international media

The Communications Professional will be expected to:

- Be proactive and contribute to current or new projects
- To act as part of the office team
- To undertake other duties as necessary, which can reasonably be achieved

The applicant must be fluent in spoken and written Danish and English (fluency in another Nordic language is a plus). We wish to fill this position ASAP so do not delay with your application via info@rosanbosch.com.

Address: Langebrogade 6J, 1 floor, DK-1114 Copenhagen K.

Hours: full time (37.5 hours per week).

Start date on April 1 2017.

Deadline for applications is February 15th 2017. First interviews will be held on Monday 30 January.

For more information about the studio, please visit our website at www.rosanbosch.com